Auburndale Bride Weds In Vermilion

Vases of pink and white carnations and potted palms was the attractive setting in the United Church, Vermilion, on Wednesday afternoon, May 3rd, at 5 o'clock when Agnes Anna Fraser only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Fraser of Auburndale became the bride of Lawrence Albert Dahl, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dahl of Wainwright. The Rev. E. Sinclair Reilke officiated.

As the organist, Miss Boda Nordstrum, played the Wedding March from Lohengrin, the radiant bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in a floor-length gown of white sheer over silk tulle, modelled on semi-princess lines, with long bishop sleeves, the bodice being softly shirred at the bust and the shoulders and shaped waist inserted with over-lapping rows of narrow Valenciennes lace and finished with a row of tiny self-covered buttons from the center of the sweetheart neckline to the waist. Her veil was of white net, floor-length, silk embroidered at the corners and attached to a halo shaped head dress of embroidered net with a small cluster of orange blossoms at each side - the same veil which had been worn by her aunt at her wedding in Quebec 35 years ago.

Her single article of jewellery was a small gold pendant inset with a single sapphire surrounded with seed pearls. She wore silver satin slippers and carried a bouquet of red roses and maidenhair fern.

Miss Enid Dahl, sister of the bridegroom was bridesmaid, and she wore a Harebell blue sheer, floor-length, with long bishop sleeves and high neckline, the fitted bodice lavishly embroidered in front and finished with tiny self-covered buttons. Her head covering was a white chapel veil embroidered at the edges and caught to her hair with two white carnations. She wore white slippers and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Clarence Fraser, brother of the bride was best man and Edward Fraser performed the duties of usher.

During the signing of the register Miss Boda Nordstrum played on the electric organ "Oh Perfect Love".

Later, at 6 o'clock the wedding party met in the Elite Cafe where a banquet was prepared for the 25 guests, the private reception room being decorated with vases of pink and white carnations. The long dining table was laid with a white linen cloth, the embroidered center-piece being occupied by a 3-tier wedding cake, and pink and white festoons were laced from the ceiling to the center of the table down its entire length.

The Rev. E. Sinclair Reilke proposed the toast to the bride.

Receiving with the young couple were Mrs. Angus Fraser, mother of the bride and Mrs. Elmer Dahl, the groom's mother. Mrs. Fraser chose for her daughter's wedding a turquoise blue crepe gown trimmed with ripple tucking and embroidery and a small navy-blue braid hat with feather ornament, and Mrs. Dahl, for her son's wedding wore a tailored two-piece rose crepe gown, richly embroidered, and a small rose felt hat with ribbon trimming.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet, and to the bridesmaid and the organist he presented a pair of gold earrings each and to the groomsmen a gold tie pin and clip. The bride presented her husband with a signet ring. In the evening a wedding dance was held in the Auburndale hall where refreshments were served to more than 150 people.

The next day the bride and groom left for a short honeymoon trip, the bride choosing for her travelling costume a smartly tailored two-piece suit in Horizon Rose herringbone wool suiting with beret style felt hat in sand and sand accessories.

Cannot Have Ship Named for Our Town

The following letter will explain why the request of our Board of Trade has had to meet with a refusal from the Authorities at Ottawa:—

Ottawa, Canada
May 1st, 1944.

Charles Wilbraham, Esq.
Sec. of Wainwright and District Board of Trade
Wainwright, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

I am directed to reply to your letter of the 24th April requesting that a ship on the Royal Canadian Navy be named "WAINWRIGHT", after your town.

The policy adopted by this Department is to name H.M.C. Ships in honor of Canadian Cities and Towns, in order of size, and most of those of 3,000 or more population have been so recognized. Consequently, all ships currently building under our programme have had names allocated thereto.

Moreover, another obstacle presents itself by reason of the fact that there is, in commission, U.S.S. "WAINWRIGHT", and names in use by either the U.S. Navy or Royal Navy are eliminated if conflictions, which obviously would arise, are to be avoided.

It is regretted, therefore, that the name Wainwright cannot be made available for an H.M.C. Ship.

Yours very truly
T.A. MacLachlan
for Secretary Naval Board.

Victory Loan Committee Determined To Beat Quota

Although at the time of writing the Wainwright-Irma Victory Loan committee have only attained an 82.7 percentage of their quota of $133,000 all the canvassers are working tooth and nail in order that this district will not be behind in the final summing up of the amounts raised throughout the province.

To reach the quota will mean that everybody MUST put their shoulder to the wheel in this effort, and buy to the very limit of their capacity.

With only a few more days to go, it will require a real strenuous job to put it over, but get out the old sock, draw the savings from the bank, and don't wait for a canvasser to call but drop in at the Victory Loan office in the Federal building and BUY MORE BONDS!

Boosting the efforts of the Wainwright-Irma Victory Loan Committee the Wainwright Town Band Co-operating with the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps "EXETER" paraded the town last Saturday night.

The Armed party from the "EXETER" consisting of 14 intermediate Cadets in white uniforms side arms and gaiters marched to the Town Hall where a Naval Signal consisting of 8 flags reading "BUY BONDS" was run up the Jack stay in true Nelson fashion.

On completing this ceremony the party, headed by their mascot "DUCHESS", (a pure-bred English bull dog carrying the Union Jack) and led by the Town Band, proceeded to the headquarters of the Victory Loan Committee for closing parade exercises.

Bd. of Trade To Sponsor Sport Day

The monthly dinner meeting of the Wainwright and District Board of Trade met in the Wainwright Hotel Cafe, on Wednesday, last with Mr. L. W. Smith in the chair.

The Chairman reviewed the minutes of the last meeting and approved same on agreement by the meeting.

Moved by Messrs. Carsell and J. Sutherland that the accounts as presented for $8.50 be approved for payment. Carried.

The Secretary advised that the Road from Highway No. 14 to the Village of Chauvin had been gravelled this spring and the job completed, also that the Municipal District of Wainwright were graveling the road from the Town to the Wainwright Cemetery.

The matter of arranging accommodation for the Provincial Government Mobile X-ray Unit, Department of Public Health, Tuberculosis Division, was discussed and a committee of Messrs. Coutu, Carsell, and Rev. A. D. Richards appointed to deal with this matter and report to the Executive.

Mr. J. H. Findlay, Principal of the Wainwright Public School, addressed the meeting as to a Field Day of Sports on July 1, 1944. This received the attention of the gathering and on motion of Rev. A. D. Richards and Mr. Carsell, the Executive to call a meeting of interested parties in the matter of staging a Sports Day at Wainwright on that date.

The progress of the 6th Victory Loan (Wainwright - Irma quota) was reported on by the President, after which the meeting adjourned.

Bank of Montreal First Crop Report

While conditions of the land in eastern Canada and on the Pacific Coast are somewhat backward, weather over most of the Prairies has been favourable for land operations, and wheat seeding is general. Although precipitation in the Prairie Provinces during April was below normal in many districts, surface moisture on the whole is sufficient to ensure germination. Sub-soil reserves are deficient in many areas and timely rainfalls will be required during the growing season. Early estimates point to a fairly good increase in wheat acreage, with the acreage to be sown to coarse grain down somewhat from 1943.

In Alberta, wheat seeding is progressing rapidly, with increased acreage indicated. Moisture conditions have been improved by some recent rains, but reserves are very much below normal over large areas, and crop development will depend on adequate precipitation during the growing season. Seeding of sugar beets is well advanced.

Saskatchewan - wheat seeding is general and is progressing under favourable weather conditions. Surface moisture generally is considered adequate to ensure germination, but subsoil reserves are deficient in many areas. Early estimates indicate wheat acreage will be somewhat higher than last year, with coarse grain acreage slightly lower.

Manitoba - Land operations are progressing rapidly under favourable weather conditions and wheat seeding is general throughout the Province. Moisture conditions on the whole are adequate for proper germination, but subsoil reserves are below normal. Wheat acreage is expected to be somewhat higher than last year, with acreage sown to coarse grains slightly lower. Sugar beet seeding is well advanced.

Heart Disease Causes Sudden Death on Train

Early on Thursday morning last, an unfortunate occurrence took place on C.N.R. flyer No. 1, when Mr. R. C. Wightman, a brakeman employed by the company, who was being transferred from the east to commence work on the Edmonton division, died in an upper berth of one of the sleeping coaches of the train just before the train reached Wainwright. He was 44 years of age, and had travelled from Montreal.

Upon arrival of the train Coroner Dr. Wallace and Corpl. Miller, R.C.M.P., were notified, and with the assistance of Town Constable Donaldson, the body was removed to McLeod's undertaking parlor.

Deceased was discharged on pension from the armed forces on February, 1942, and was known to be suffering from heart disease.

The body was released by the coroner who certified the cause of death and was shipped on Friday night's train to his home in Montreal, his wife, Mrs. Mamie Doyle Wightman there having been notified.

M-O-T-H-E-R

This is her day—though every day is hers
Brimmed, as they are, with urgent tasks and deeds;
The glad young mother who must daily meet
Small children's constant needs!

This is her day—the mother who has seen
Her children grow, like young corn in the sun;
Tall, straight and clean; who takes a keen delight
And pride in every one!

This is her day—the mother now grown old,
Who folds her hands, and slowly rocks her chair;
Who nods and smiles across the gathering dusk
At a child who is not there!

This is their day—the mothers of the world—
And the whole nation pauses (as it should)
To honor them who know the poignant pain
And Joy of Motherhood!

WAINWRIGHT, WEDNESDAY, MAY 10th, 1944

HE DIED BECAUSE

There are many who see this war through the distant eyes of son or daughter who are face to face with its hazards. To them it is real and personal enough. But to very many of us it is still a matter of grim and not very real happenings in places whose very names are unfamiliar, of continuing small demands on our emotions, of a little disorganization of our accustomed ways that we may have magnified into privations, and of some demands on our resources. These things, to many of us, are the measure of our sacrifice. We would not dare deny that the cause is worth anything we have to offer, even our lives. But we at home are not offering our lives. We are offering, sometimes not too graciously, only its insignificant margins.

There is no one who would say that what we at home have given could represent an equality of sacrifice with the offering of those who are today fighting the bitter Battle of Italy, or who stand poised and ready for the desperate assault on Fortress Europe. Liberty is no dearer to them than to us at home. This war is no more their cause than it is ours. There is no more obligation for them to sacrifice than there is for us.

We cannot share with them, perhaps, but we can face our obligation to get this bitter thing over as soon and as decisively as may be. We can buy bonds and so do our small part to shorten the war. Every added hour the war lasts means more death, more horror, more lifelong suffering for some one, more bitterness, more hate, more long and tortured years of recovery. Every hour saved means that some lad who might have died tomorrow will be alive and free.

God knows we are not yet callous enough to hold back, except in carelessness or lack of thought. But to-day we must think, and think in these terms: Can we ever lift up our heads again in confidence and assurance and integrity if in some corner of our minds there should remain the aching suspicion that in this last and crucial moment we scamped a little on our small sacrifice? If we have thought first of ourselves, first of our convenience, first of our little selfish comforts; if we have told ourselves, "I've got other ways to use the money this time, and they'll get along all right without my two bits," then the day may come when we will see ourselves as another who betrayed a priceless trust for "thirty pieces of silver."

The Victory Loan must succeed. We are not going to urge that it is a good investment that pays us dividends, or that these savings may stand us in good stead in days to come, for that is of secondary importance. The important thing is that it is the only way that most of us can do our small share, can help to get this bitter thing over.

This is not some one else's business. It comes right back to you. Will you let some poor boy die because you can think of another way to spend your dollars?

JOSEPH LISTER RUTLEDGE
 in "Liberty"

AN ARRESTING IDEA

There is a man in Windsor, Ontario, with an idea worth examining. He envisages his purchase of Victory Bonds as his personal support of his young nephew now serving in Italy.

Explaining his plan to a friend the other day, he said that his children were all girls. So he chose his sister's son as his direct war interest.

"It's funny how it works," he said. "When I bought bonds in the first and second loans, I measured my purchases by figuring out how much I could comfortably afford. But since I have begun to think of my bond purchases as my backing of this particular lad, I find myself thinking in terms of what he needs instead of what I can afford."

If this idea were adopted generally throughout Canada for this campaign bond sales might rise in startling fashion.

INFLATION AND THE CHURCH

(By Byrne Hope Sanders)

Have you ever considered the effect which inflation might have upon the work of the church in its various departments? If Canada should lose the battle against this foe, it would mean the serious curtailment, if not the extinction, of activities for the guidance and welfare of youth, care of the aged and infirm, and the support of missions at home and abroad.

The danger is realized by leaders in all spheres of religious work. Among them is Mrs. Harvey Agnew, president of the National Council, Young Women's Christian Association, who declares that inflation would mean the end of all voluntary organizations.

Not a pleasant prospect for the thousands of women's church groups, their work in home missions and in missions abroad, as well as their activities within the church, depend largely on the contributions of members. Many a church mortgage has been burned through the efforts of the women's organizations, many a destitute family helped. And in the pre-war days, many a foreign mission operated through gifts from the women's missionary societies.

Money for these various projects has been raised through voluntary giving and through teas, bazaars, socials and mite boxes.

Under inflation, cost of materials that go into articles for sale at bazaars would be prohibitive and the same hardship would affect all other fund-raising projects. Uncontrolled prices would leave contributors hard pressed for the bare necessities of life. Inevitably this would result in dwindling church collections. Keenly aware of this threat, women's church organizations have been in the forefront of the attack against inflation. During the past two years most of these societies have appointed liaison officers to work with the Consumer Branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. They realize that effective price-checking is possible only through a comprehensive understanding of the purpose of price control.

And they know also that this understanding can be achieved best by having a liaison officer in every women's church group.

Personal apathy will not win the battle against inflation. Price-checking cannot be left to someone else any more than one should leave her duty to her church to others. The mental and spiritual crusading power of every Canadian woman is needed in this battle. It is a battle which demands renewed faith in the working ability of democracy based on Christian principles.

Will Order Buses Carry First Aid

New regulations to be adopted by the provincial highway traffic board will require motor buses to carry first aid equipment, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

Such equipment is required in some other provinces, it is understood, and the Alberta board is giving consideration to a similar regulation which would be of a general application.

In view of the large volume of passenger traffic on Alberta buses, it has been suggested that these vehicles should be required to carry first aid equipment in case of emergency or accident. Some buses operating in the province now carry such equipment.

A new board regulation required truckers to paint their license number on the body of the truck, "where the body is so constructed as to make the license markers on the rear window invisible from the rear."

In the license year ended March 31 last, there were 34,330 motor truck licenses issued by the board, compared with 32,136 in the previous year. The number issued since April 1 exceeds the corresponding period of last year.

Farm Implement Production Up

Ottawa - Total tonnage of farm machinery production in 1945 will be approximately one half the tonnage manufactured during 1940 and 1941, according to H. H. Bloom, administrator of farm and construction machinery for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. There will be no restriction on production of spare parts for farm machinery.

The tonnage devoted to the 1945 manufacturing program will be confined to types of machinery essential to Canada's production of foodstuffs.

In addition to machinery for domestic use Mr. Bloom pointed out that Canadian manufacturers are being asked to produce equipment specifically for establishing war veterans on the land. Canada will also contribute production of farm equipment for rehabilitation under the UNRRA program, the administrator stated.

Mr. Bloom pointed out that the increased output in 1945 does not indicate that demand for all types and varieties of agricultural equipment can be filled. "Rationing will continue to be necessary and only the most urgent and essential needs can be

Some interesting data on rubber was given in the House by the Minister of Munitions and Supply, Mr. Howe, who pointed out that the problem of producing enough synthetic rubber to obviate a shortage which would have crippled Canada's war effort in this regard, had been met and overcome. The new Crown company in Sarnia, the Polymer Corporation, is now turning out Buna-S type rubber at 2,500 tons a month and butyl at 150 tons a month. Maybe you don't know it, but this plant has no counterpart anywhere as it produces all the ingredients of synthetic rubber and manufactures the finished article. 1944 will not bring relief to civilians in the way of tires, most of the 900,000 tires are to be used on military vehicles. They are said to be about 80% as efficient as raw rubber tires, according to the minister.

The romance of eggs from Canada. Shipments of dried eggs to Britain began in the early part of 1942, principally to save needed cargo space. Today the British public knows that when they make a good sized omelette that only about half an ounce of shipping space was required. Eggs go to Britain in 5-ounce packages for sale in stores to consumers and in 14-lb. cartons for bakery and hotel trade. Last year shipments of dried eggs totalled about 12 million pounds, the equivalent of 36 million dozen shell eggs. There must be great satisfaction to the farm woman who goes out daily to gather in the eggs, to know their probable destination.

What ho, the Victory Garden—in thousands of communities throughout Canada. The Supplies Board urges that for 1944 an even greater effort in wartime gardens than in 1943, since there will be a more urgent need for all food products that can be grown in this country. Whatever the effort, to allay any fears, they say it will not affect the market for the produce of commercial or market gardens. The maximum output from such gardens will be needed to fill the demands from the armed forces, ships' stores and the civilian population. Standard types of garden tools are available in reasonable quantities.

Among the many matters which Byrne Sanders, Consumer Branch Director of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, will discuss during her trip this month in the Western provinces, is the question of labelling. Branch officers are going to be asked to give women information on checking for quality in the various articles of clothing they buy this spring. They will be asked to watch for the manufacturer's name or his WPTB license, also style number and size. Then, if the garment appears to be inferior in any way, the above description of the article may be sent to the Consumer Branch in Ottawa. Miss Sanders says she believes controlling quality is as important as controlling prices.

CAN ERADICATE

PERENNIAL WEEDS

The most serious perennial weeds, such as perennial sow thistle, Canada thistle, quack grass, toad flax and many others, may be eradicated from a field in one season by the so-called "shallow cultivation method". This method is based on the fact that approximately 90 per cent of the dry matter of the plant is made up of products containing carbon dioxide which the plant takes from the air through the surfaces of its green leaves. If the plant is deprived of this main source of food through the prevention of top growth during a definite length of time, it finally dies from suffocation and starvation.

In the task of eradication, states Herbert Groh, Division of Botany, Dominion Department of Agriculture, several points have to be kept in mind: (1) complete eradication of the weed; (2) reservation of soil mixture for the crop following; (3) prevention of soil drifting; (4) economy of time, labour, and power. All these objectives may be accomplished by very shallow tillage, sufficient to inhibit top growth.

The procedure is simple and consists of the following operations: (1) the land infested with perennial sow thistle or quack grass should be ploughed with sharp shares to a depth not greater than three inches and disked immediately to close the furrows; (2) the surface should be kept entirely free from top growth during the following 12 weeks in the case of perennial sow thistle and during 16 to 18 weeks in the case of quack grass by using a sharp disk or duckfoot cultivator whenever new leaves begin to appear. With quack grass, much oftener than with the perennial weeds, difficulty arises in wet years, especially on heavier types of soil. The surface is too sticky to allow cultivation, and the green growth reinforces the plants. However, the main point is to keep down the top growth.

HEEL FLY CAMPAIGN

GAINS MOMENTUM

From the southern boundary of Alberta to the northern fringe of settlement a great army of stockmen are attacking our most destructive cattle parasite. So enthusiastic is this attempt to destroy the heel fly says J. L. Eaglesham, Supervisor of Pest Control, that a considerable improvement in Alberta's live stock industry is already assured. This is the second season of the province-wide campaign to improve the milk, beef and leather situation by destroying warble grubs. The momentum that this campaign has achieved is encouraging. Its success is ample proof of its value.

The unthrifty condition of grubby cattle has been noted by feeders for many years. Summer gadding of cattle on pasture has been accepted as a necessary affliction for generations. Heavy losses in meat and hide values and in milk production were borne stoically by producers because we did not realize either the extent of the losses involved or the effectiveness and the simplicity of the treatment necessary to overcome these losses.

Today, we know that the average loss in Alberta due to uncontrolled heel fly activity is between $5.00 and $10.00 per head. We know that to save these losses costs about .05 per head. Stock raisers are now determined that they will dispose of this pest and they are doing it on a grand scale.

Producers who are treating their cattle for warbles hope that all their neighbours will also get out and treat theirs. It is known that individual effort is worthwhile, but community effort is preferable, since it makes the control easier and much more permanent.

THE WAR NOT YET WON

This war is far from won, no matter what some may say. In the spring of 1918 the odds were heavily in favour of the Germans winning the last war, and yet by November the Germans were beaten.

Wars are won with great difficulty but can easily and quickly be lost. Wars have often been lost from the lack of a few extra men, some extra equipment, munitions or guns. The only assurance of victory is to have more men, more and better weapons and equipment than the enemy.

Then, too, with my own eyes I have seen young men killed in battle because they did not have at hand sufficient munitions.

To train, equip and transport manpower, to manufacture munitions and to make them available to fighting men costs money and lots of it. The Government depends on the sale of Victory Bonds for a considerable part of the money it needs.

As I see it, it is not a mere privilege that we have to buy Victory Bonds. It is a sheer undeniable high duty and responsibility we must assume in order to supply the Government with sufficient money to prevent unnecessary loss of life, and to ensure the winning of battles and of the war. Only by winning the war can we escape being enslaved by our enemies. Only by winning the war can we be assured of a free and bright future for ourselves and for our children.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFS

It is reported that the Argentine Government may be reserving 100 million bushels of old and new crop corn for fuel this season. A wheat deficiency of 20% is reported in Eire, and negotiations are said to be under way with the U.S.A. for the purchase of two cargo vessels.

Russia's food supply is expected to improve materially with the reconquest of the Ukraine. Colombian wheat production in 1943 was estimated at 60,000 tons, an increase of about 12% over the 1942 crop. Seeding is getting under way in the Argentine and indications are that farmers will increase wheat acreage this season.

In the drive for more rubber, the only European estates in Nyasaland working at full pressure throughout 1942 produced approximately 200,000 lbs. During the latter part of the year the organization of natives for collection of wild rubber produced 18,944 lbs. of bal. rubber.

Pledges are only good when men are.

April is the month for the final effort to destroy the 1944 heel fly crop. If this month is allowed to pass without giving stock the necessary treatment they will be bothered throughout the summer. If, on the other hand, proper treatment is applied to cattle now, a fly free season may be enjoyed and maximum gains produced.

A HEALTH SERVICE OF THE CANADIAN MEDICAL ASSOCIATION AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

V.D. Education in Prisons

"Information on the subject of venereal disease should be given inmates of all prisons and jails, refugees and shelters by means of lectures, films and literature," John Kidman, honorary secretary of the Canadian Penal Association said here today.

Mr. Kidman commended the nation's educational program on venereal disease which is being sponsored by the Health League of Canada in co-operation with the public health departments.

"But," he said, "there is a tendency in some parts of the country to bring information to service clubs, church groups, and others who do not need it as much as some other persons. The inmates of our correctional institutions, by and large, come from unsatisfactory home environments. A great majority of them have not enjoyed the fortifying influences of good homes, church associations, and other factors that make for stable social living. These people, of all, should not be overlooked in the present educational drive."

Mr. Kidman suggested that provincial health departments should take steps to make sure that every inmate of a correctional institution hears at least one lecture from the institution physician, sees at least one educational film on venereal disease, and gets at least one booklet on the subject. Additional lectures by prison chaplains and available social service workers should be considered. "There is an opportunity to talk to inmates on the sole question of marriage relationships and community living that should not be ignored," Mr. Kidman concluded.

ONE HALIFAX COSTS

A MILLION DOLLARS

Winnipeg, April — Including the bomb load and the money spent on training the crew, every Halifax that takes off from England to attack Hitler's Europe costs a million dollars. Squadron Leader R. M. Frayne, R.C. A.F., recently returned from overseas told a Victory Loan rally of Canadian National Railways officers and employees in Winnipeg. "One Canadian all the money in the world. Let us give the boys overseas the best kites money can buy. 'Paying tribute to the Canadian Army and Navy as well as to the Air Force, he said. "No country could turn out a better bunch of men to do the dirty job of getting rid of Hitler."

Hints for the Household

You can't serve too many salads. But here's a word of warning! You can serve the same salad too often. Families like and should have salad variety.

For today's salad, why not choose that green or yellow vegetable you are supposed to eat every day for vitamin A. Have a salad of crisp greens, or tender young carrots—shredded or grated raw—or of cooked asparagus.

Tomorrow serve a fruit salad. Is your family tired of sliced tomatoes on lettuce? Give them a salad of sliced oranges. This, by the way, is a fresh fruit salad you can serve the year around, both winter and summer. The oranges have twice as much vitamin C as tomatoes, too, should you plan your salad to furnish this important food element.

Other year around salads are furnished by the convenient frozen foods—berries, string beans and so on. The possibilities for salad variety are unlimited.

Save Points With Lemon Dressings
Much of the success of your salad depends upon the dressing but war conditions have made salad dressings a problem. Salad oil takes points. Older vinegars and commercial salad dressings are hard to find on grocers' shelves.

Here that versatile fruit—the lemon—will help you. Used alone or in dressings made with other ingredients, lemon juice has a pleasing fresh tartness and tang that enhances the flavor of the foods with which it is served.

Lemon juice and salt is a very simple but a good dressing—use with lettuce and other salad greens, with a combination salad of cooked vegetables, with sliced tomatoes or with avocados. Persons who are reducing like this low-calorie dressing.

Lemon juice and sugar (juice of 1 lemon to 2 tablespoons of white or brown sugar) is a pleasing variation of the vinegar and sugar dressing. Grandmother served on lettuce. Children like this dressing with shredded raw carrots or grated apple.

Lemon juice and honey, blended to taste, is also a good dressing for a carrot or apple salad. Try it on your apple, celery and nut Waldorf salad. The lemon juice keeps the color of the apple from darkening. This is the best salad dressing we know about to add freshness and flavor to a salad of canned fruits.

French Dressing: If your family must have French dressing, save points by making it with less oil and more lemon juice than your recipe calls for. Or use unrationed olive oil. French dressing may be made to go further by adding honey or jelly. So sweetened it is especially good on a fruit salad.

Peanut Cream Dressing

1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1/2 cup peanut butter
1 tablespoon sugar or honey
1 teaspoon salt
Beat until smooth and creamy. A good dressing for lettuce or cabbage, and for fruit salads. Makes 1/2 cup.

Cottage Cheese Dressing

3 tablespoons lemon juice
3 tablespoons cottage cheese
3 tablespoons evaporated milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar or honey
Dash of paprika
1 tablespoon chopped chives, if desired
Beat until smooth. Makes about 1 cup.

Lemon Sour Cream Dressing

3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon mustard
1 cup evaporated milk
Mix lemon juice, salt and mustard. Stir slowly into milk. A good dressing for cole slaw. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

COLD DAYS AHEAD!

Hot days are coming, but remember there are always cold days ahead.

lender as the various fruits and berries appear locally. Here's a strawberry treat for next winter—if your man-folk will leave it on the shelf that long:

Strawberry Marmalade
4 cups (8 lbs.) prepared fruit; 7 cups (3 lbs.) sugar; 1/2 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit, peel off yellow rind of 2 medium oranges and 2 medium lemons with sharp knife, leaving as much of the white part on fruit as possible. Put yellow rinds through food chopper. Add 1/2 cup water and 1/2 teaspoon soda, bring to a boil, and simmer, covered, 10 minutes. Cut off tight skin of peeled fruit and slip pulp out of each section. Add pulp and juice to rind and simmer, covered, 20 minutes longer. Crush thoroughly or grind about 1 quart fully ripe strawberries. Combine fruit.

Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, filling up last cup with water if necessary. Mix well, bring to a boil, and boil gently 5 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes, to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot marmalade at once. Makes about 10 glasses (8 fluid ounces each).

Nutritious Feather Dumplings

A rich beef stew with feathery dumplings carries us back to the days when grandmother's dinners filled our young hearts with joy. Making dumplings has become a lost art in far too many homes. Try the recipe below and your home will immediately leave this category:

Feather Dumplings for Beef Stew
1 cup sifted cake flour; 1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder; 1/2 teaspoon salt; 5 teaspoons melted fat.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Add milk and fat. Then stir quickly and lightly until a very soft dough is formed. Drop by small spoonfuls on simmering stew or fricassee, making sure each dumpling rests on meat or vegetables. (Dumplings should not settle in the liquid. If necessary pour off excess gravy, returning it to stew after the dumplings are cooked.) Cover kettle tightly and cook gently 14 minutes. Do not remove cover while dumplings cook. Makes 6 to 8 dumplings.

Note: For the fat, use a little fat skimmed from stew in making these dumplings. It gives extra good flavor.

Baked On Frosting

1 egg white; dash of salt; 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed; 1/4 teaspoon double-acting baking powder.

Place egg white in bowl, add salt, and beat with rotary egg beater until foamy throughout. Mix together brown sugar and baking powder and add gradually to egg white, beating until mixture is stiff enough to hold up in moist peaks. Spread on top of cake batter before baking; then bake cake as directed. Makes enough frosting to cover top of 10 x 10 x 2-inch cake.

Canadian Garden Service

Flowers have a Place

Even in wartime home-grown flowers cannot be considered as a luxury. The real gardener will find a place for them. To him the growing of beautiful flowers is more than just a hobby or recreation. It satisfies his natural craving to create something with his own hands and out of his own brain—it provides a tonic for war-strung nerves. The actual cost in dollars and cents is negligible. A few packets of seed at a total cost of a quarter will provide a wealth of bloom, will turn some drab, neglected corner into a riot of color and beauty will help us forget the fact that long week-end motoring or distant holiday trips are out until the Nazis and Japs have been put in their place.

Speeding Results

The use of started or bedding plants will help speed returns. These may be secured from the nearest seed firm or florist or professional gardener. They are plants from seed sown indoors, usually in a hotbed or greenhouse and are well-grown when set outdoors as soon as danger from frost is over. They now come in a great variety of both flowers and vegetables.

Only by the use of certain started plants is it possible to get flowers and vegetable maturity in some parts of Canada. Petunias, for instance, would hardly reach blooming stage in most parts of Canada if sown from seed outdoors. The same is true of tomatoes, and possibly of cabbage and other things. In transplanting these from the flats or baskets in which we buy them, one should water well and if the sun is hot it is a good thing to provide a little shade for a day or two. Also, if these plants are in flower or are very tall it is advisable to snip off flowers and pinch back main stems to encourage stocky growth.

War Gardens Pay Their Way

In most parts of Canada last year vegetables were worth real money. And there is no indication that the situation is going to be any easier this summer. Not only were Victory Gardens found to be a worthwhile investment from the dollars and cents angle, but indirectly in the way of healthy exercise, relief from war tension and unpurchasable garden freshness, it is simply impossible to estimate the dividends.

If the war plot is very tiny, authorities advise concentrating on those vegetables which give the biggest yield. This means small, compact things like onions, carrots, beets, lettuce, radish, spinach, beans and possibly a few staked tomatoes. With the first five items even 10 feet of row, if given a little attention in the way of thinning, cultivation, and perhaps watering and fertilizer, should produce three or four gold meals for the fair-sized family. And as the rows can be spaced a mere foot apart, a plot a dozen feet each way will grow a lot of crop. Spinach and beans take a little more space, but 20 feet of row will furnish several meals.

The real role of the small urban garden should be to supply the owner with fresh salad material—lettuce, radishes, onions, etc. and as many meals as possible of really fresh vegetables during the summer.

NEXT WEEK:—Corn, peas, tomatoes and potatoes—Showy annuals.
